The Hardin Congregation has moved the Court pursuant to Rule 24(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to permissively intervene in this matter for the exclusive purpose of responding to the Plaintiffs' Motion To Compel Re: Hardin Congregation Subpoena. Rule 24(b)(1)(B) provides:

(b) Permissive Intervention.

(1) In General. On timely motion, the court may permit anyone to intervene who:

(B) has a claim or defense that shares with the main action a common question of law or fact.

The Hardin Congregation is a non-party to this matter. Despite its non-party status, a subpoena was served upon it by plaintiffs.¹ Despite material flaws in the subpoena under the requirements of Rule 45, F.R.Civ.P., rather than seek to quash the subpoena, the Hardin Congregation opted to cooperate and worked with the assistance of counsel to respond. As expressly noted, the Hardin Congregation's subpoena response was provided without waiving its objections and its formal subpoena responses specifically set forth its objections. (Exhibit 2 to Plaintiffs' Brief).

The plaintiffs' subpoena requested items which included communications that are be maintained as strictly confidential pursuant to the fundamental tenets, doctrines, canons, beliefs and established practices of the Jehovah's Witnesses' faith. The Hardin Congregation identified those documents withheld or redacted based upon privilege in accordance with Rule 45(e)(2), F.R.Civ.P. The Hardin Congregation also provided a Privilege Log "describing the nature of the withheld documents, communications or tangible things in a manner" that would not reveal privileged or protected information. Plaintiffs nonetheless assert: 1) that the privileges relied upon by the Hardin Congregation are not valid under Montana law; and/or 2) that the Hardin Congregation's Privilege Log is inadequate.

The Hardin Congregation strongly opposes plaintiffs' arguments. Further, the resolution of the issues raised by plaintiffs have significant implications far beyond this litigation and could impact the ability of the Hardin Congregation, and the entire Jehovah's Witnesses faith, to assure its members and elders that communications made with an express expectation of confidentiality will be maintained in strict confidence. Any possible ruling in this case that such communications are not strictly confidential and immune from production would have a chilling impact the Jehovah's Witnesses' ability to practice their faith in accordance with the fundamental tenets, doctrines, canons, beliefs and established practices which ensure its congregants and elders that any communication made with an expectation of confidentiality will be maintained as such.

The Hardin Congregation undoubtedly has a vested interest in the resolution of the issues now raised by plaintiffs, and it must be allowed to permissively intervene so as to heard on these crucial issues.

RESPECTTFULLY SUBMITTED this 4th day of May, 2021.
